

Amid the COVID-19 pandemic, the health and safety of our employees and clients is our top priority.

We are strictly following the government guidelines on preventing the spread of COVID-19 in our workplace while we continue to provide services to our clients.

We are making sure that our workplaces are clean and hygienic with regular disinfection, while encouraging personal hygiene, including, thorough hand washing and social distancing.

Our office remains open for business as usual. If you wish to discuss how COVID-19 is impacting you and your business or you have any questions regarding your investment, insurance or superannuation in line with the current situation, please feel free to contact us and let us know how we can help you.

We have held a meeting with our full team today and advised them they are able to work from home if they would feel more comfortable, our IT providers have ensured we can offer this to all employees.

If you feel uncomfortable visiting our office, we can always arrange other options such as email, phone call and video conferencing. If you are feeling at all unwell, please do not come to our office, but rather take advantage of those options.

During this trying time, it is imperative that we manifest prudence and preparedness.
